Lace Pottery has been featured prominently recently on Daytime TV and in Southern Living Magazine. A photograph of Weldon's Remembrance Bowl (pictured to the left) is displayed on page 22 of the December 2009 issue as part of a section called "Best of the South | Made by Southern Hands."

The Lace Pottery collection combines Maggie Weldon's 25 years of crochet experience with handmade pottery. Each piece is delicately designed using fine porcelain clay and handmade doilies. The doilies are pressed into the clay and removed before the piece is fired in a kiln. The finished products feature the impression of the lace and are available in a variety of colors and styles. Prices range from $7 to $600.
